

Fruit

All fruit develops from the flower of the plant. All other parts of the plant, including roots, stems and leaves, are vegetables. All fruit has seeds! The eggplant, pictured here, is fruit. Do you see the seeds? Some may be classified as fruit and vegetable.

Vegetable

Vegetables are categorized by the part of the plant used for food...roots, stems and leaves. The onion, pictured here, is a vegetable; the "head" grows underground.
